Published for the Student Body of Florida Southern College Lakeland, Florida
Volume 45

So intangible,
and yet so much
a part of us—a part of our everyday lives.
Faith is that
inscrutable,
indescribable
something that assails our fears,
lightens our depressions, and lifts us out of the humdrumness
of our existence.

Faith, like love,
adds sparkle to our lives.

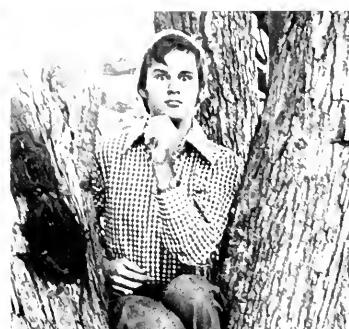

And yet,
as fleeting
as it may seem,
there is something altogether solid
about faith.

It gives one
the feeling that his feet are planted on never-shifting ground, and his soul and mind have found a secure resting place.

Faith
imparts to us
the courage
we so badly need to face the new and unknown.

It enables us to take one day at a time and concentrate on it, in the confident knowledge that any worrying we could do about tomorrow would not hasten or slow up its coming.

We all place our faith in something — whether it be ourself, some material object, or God, whatever we may conceive Him to be.

Our faith
is only as useful,
as lasting,
and as trustworthy
as the object
in which it is placed.

Each of us
experiences faith
and has faith
many times
without even realizing it.
We have faith
in our friends,
teachers,
and parents.

We believe in many things that we may not understand — electricity, the solar system — the list is endless. So, how do you go about gaining this mystery called faith?

It's not something you can pounce upon and greedily claim for your own. It can't be bought with money, knowledge, or noble deeds. It is available to the poorest and the least intelligent person among us. Most of the time, we realize faith when we least expect to.

When the day has gone from bad to worse,
and we're about to give up hope,
faith surprises us
with a beautiful,
glowing sunset that promises us a brighter tomorrow.

When a crisis
brings our familiar world
crashing down
around us,
a quiet moment
spent in prayer
or meditation
reminds us that we are not alone.

STUDENT LIFE

"Just keep yourself up, Don't ever complain;
Before you can walk in the sun,
You gotta laugh in the rain."

Faith won't let us sink into despair when we'd most like to.

Instead, it comes sneaking up on us by way of the brilliant smile or warm touch of a friend. When the activities and the busyness of our days press in on us so that we feel like running back to our childhood, an unhurried walk on a dewy-filled morning, or a star-lit night restores our sanity and once again makes us certain that life is worth living.

Faith is so paradoxical — so real and yet you can't reach out and touch it.

Could it possibly be that we never find faith, but instead . . . faith finds us?

Faith often involves a step into uncertainties.

Sometimes we feel that it would be so much easier and nicer to be absolutely sure of something
before we commit ourselves to it.

It is those leaps of faith, though, that make life exciting and worth living.

If we operated solely on absolute certainties, we might never know the joy of falling in love; we might never trust a friend or believe in something we cannot see or fully understand.

Yet faith is not necessarily blind.

Faith is more often like a foggy day. Often the fog is so thick that we cannot see more than two feet in front of us.

Just those two feet are enough, however, if we walk slowly.
With each step we take,
another foot of the path becomes clear to us.

In the same way faith widens our horizons and pushes us along the path of life when we would be most inclined to find a comfortable rut on the side of the road to curl up in and fall asleep — to the world's cares and its joys.

Faith is not a leap into the dark, but actually a step into the light.

1977 INTERLACHEN DEDICATION

Teaching: the transmittance of facts or ideas. A cold definition lacking the smell of chalk dust, the grind of a pencil sharpener, the interaction between inquisitive minds.

Teaching: the opportunity to work with people and be instrumental in the educational and maturing process of many. A warm definition encompassing hours devoted to advising honorary fraternal organizations, the constant revamping of lesson plans to include new-found information and innovative ideas, an open office and home door, words of encouragement and personal greetings outside class.

Teaching: to someone in particular it offers satisfaction and deserving rewards; Outstanding Teacher Award for New Faculty, 1974, Teacher Award for Phi Chi Theta, 1975, and the dedication of the 1977 Interlachen.

DR. VERONICA VITELLI of the Business and Economics Department for teaching us that teacher and friend can be one and the same, the 1977 Interlachen is proudly dedicated to you!
